CRASHED INTO HER SLIP.

THE FERRYBOAT CASTLETON WRECKS A LAND-ING STAGE AT ST. GEORGE-"DEAD CENTRE."

IT IS THOUGHT, TO BLAME. The Staten Island Rapid Transit ferryboat Castleton, Captain Frank Braisted, hit the floating bridge at the St. George terminal last night too and caused a panie on board the boat. The boat had made a good trip to St. George after leaving Whitehall-st, at 630 o'clock. It was foggy, but the boat reached St. George on time. As she entered the slip the engines were backing. The as rung by Captain Braisted to stop. This was done and the boat went into the slip at a rapid rate. Then the captain again rang the bell to back. This should have brought the big boat to a standstill within a foot or two of the edge of

to a standstill within a foot or two of the edge of the bridge. For some reason the signal was not obeyed. It is believed the engines were on a "dead centre," and before they could be released the heavy boat struck the bridge.

The bridge was not damaged, but was forced against the flooring of the lending stage with so mach force that the planking of the flooring was tern up for a space of fifteen feet. The pieces flew high is the air and one of them, in falling, struck the foot of Andrew Hashagen, a train hand, and creshed it. He was the only person injured.

On board the boat almost all the passengers were standing in readiness to get off. They were knocked in all directions by the force of the blow, and a panile resulted. Several women screamed, and this added to the confusion. The boat is lighted with electricity, and as the impact did not extinguish the lights the panic ceased when it was seen there was no damage. The blow released the engines and the roat backed out of the slip and entered the other. Outside of bruises, no one complained of being injured.

MANDAMUS FOR RICHMOND CANVASSERS.

the returns he has defeated Dr. Feeny by three votes.

Since the Board of Supervisors, acting as a canvassing board, met to canvass the vote, there has been much talk between counsel of the rival candidates. Although there are some ciercal errors, an attempt is being made to compel the Board to declare the result on the figures before them. There are about twelve districts in which there are disputes. The principal one is the Vith of Middletown. The original returns show & votes cast for Cromwell, while the tally-sheet shows that he polled only 79. When the Board met yesterday in Richmond, they received a mandamus, issued by Justice Maddox. In Brooklyn, compelling them to show cause why they should not canvass the result as they found it, and also why they should not canvass the vote in the other districts. The mandamus is returnable in Brooklyn to-day.

The Board went on canvassing the vote in districts where there is no trouble, and adjourned until to-morrow morning.

A STATEN ISLAND POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

DYNAMITE USED ON THE SAFE-A DRUG STORE LOOTED AND A BOAT STOLEN.

The safe in the postoffice in Rossville, Staten Island, a small village on the Sound, on the westerly side of the island, was blown open yesterday morn ing with dynamite by expert thieves, who, after robbing a drug store in Richmond, made their escape in safety in a boat stolen from Kreischerville. making a landing on the New-Jersey shore.

The postoffice is in the grocery store of Sleight & Decker, in the heart of the village, and Elmer Sleight is the postmaster. On Sunday night he was at the office at 11 o'clock. When he went to was at the office at 11 o'clock. When he went to open the grocery yesterday morning he found it had been opened for him, and the safe also. The window on the side of the store had been broken open with a limmy, and the casing partly torn out. The burglars had swathed the safe, bored two holes in the door, placed dynamite in them, and blown a big hole, wrecking the mechanism and bursting the door. In the safe they found about $200 in stamps, some private papers, including a copy of a mortgage, and about $100 in money orders and registered letters. The contents were carried off.

The drug store of Edward Crocheron, on the Fresh Kill Road, near Richmond, also was broken into, the back door being forced. Cologne, brushes, drugs and fancy articles valued at $100 were removed. Some of the tools belonging to a black-smith named George Merrick were used to crack the postaffice.

smill named deorge alertica were used to crack the postoffice.

Yesierday morning the police discovered that a r whoat belonging to Claus Wilkens, of Kreischerville, had been stolen. It was found abandoned on the Jersey shore, where the men pulled it up. No clews are to be had, but the men are supposed to be the ones who have recently been systematically making raids in the southerly end of the island.

HUSBAND SAYS THE WIFE DID IT, POLICE SAY SHE COULDN'T.

Boston, Nov. 15 .- Frank McLaughlin and his wife Mary were found in an unconscious condition at their home, No. 46 Third-st., South Boston, at 6:00 o'clock this morning. Both had been shot, and both, it is thought, will die. The man was revived by the physicians who were summoned, and in a short time he was able to talk. He informed the police that his wife had shot him while he was asleep, and that she afterward attempted to kill herself. Upon subsequent investigation, how-ever, the police found that this story was probably untrue, as the situation of the woman's wounds indicated that they could not have been self-in-indicated that they could not have been self-inflicted. McLaughlin has consumption, and had been ordered by his physician to go to a hospital to-day. The interior of the apartments occupied by the couple indicated that they were in destitution. There was only a single piece of bread in the place.

The police learned that two months ago a child born to the couple died. It was only two weeks old, but its death seemed to weigh heavily on the woman's mind. Two weeks ago she asked her husband to kuy a revolver for her to protect herself after he had gone to the hospital. McLaughlin bought the revolver. It was the one used in this morning's shooting.

At the City Hospital, to which the couple were taken, it was stated that both would probably die. McLaughlin is about thirty years old, and his wife twenty-six. They have been married only a year.

A NATIONAL BANK FOR CLAYTON, N. Y.

Washington, Nov. 15 (Special) .- The Controller of the Currency has approved the application for a and the boat backed out of the slip and entered the other. Outside of bruises, no one complained of being injured.

Sensational reports of the affair were spread and sansfous inquiries were made of the ferry officers by people from all parts of the island. A force of men replaced the planking torn up within a short process.

American Legation to the Surgeon General of the American Legation to the Surgeon General of the Marine Hespital Service that, according to the Marine Hespital Service that, according to the official sanitary reports received from the different provinces of the Turkish Empire, there exists at present an epidemic of dergue fever in Adalia, on the Mediterranean coast of Asia Minor. In the other provinces public health is rather good. Only from Alenno is appropriated an epigodic among coast. from Aleppo is announced an epizootic among oxen,

He says: "In Constantinople there exists always many cases of typhold fever, and some of smallpox, as well as of other zymotic diseases. According to the statistics issued by the Bureau de la Mortalité of the Sanitary Board, there have been registered for the week ended September 28, or, according to the new style, the 19th inst, two hundred deaths. I am glad to state that at the last sitting of the Inan adjournment of four days. Homer Nichols, Mr. Richardson's broker, was again on the stand, and produced a checkbook containing stubs showing transactions with the testator within a few months of his death. Mr. Nichols has testified that, in his opinion, Mr. Richardson was irrational just before his death, and the witness's cross-examination was conducted with a view to bringing out the fact that husiness transactions between thera, many of them of considerable importance, took piace and showed Mr. Richardson to have been entirely sound mentally.

• While Mr. Nichols was under cross-examination Wheeler H. Peckham, counsel for the contestants, made frequent objections. Finally Mr. Darilington, who is associated with Mr. Nichol, rose and said: "Your Honor, if there is a discussion as to the admissibility of this testimony the witness will become informed as to the object of the testimony and this witness is prepared to swear to anything. In an instant Mr. Peckham was on fils feet. "That is the most confounded statement I ever heard in a courtroom," he exclaimed. "It is unit to the regulations, five years, but the gentlersently and black user ling."

Mr. Darlington began an answer, but Mr. Peckham seald: "When you leagh to use decent, respectable English it will then be time for you to practise before the bar."

Surrogate Fitzgerald at this point brought his gavel down with a bang that shook the bench, and the belligerent lawyers subsided.

HE FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

A HOUSE vs. A DWELLING.

Said Pope once of the house of the Duke of

"I find by all you have been telling, That'tis a house and not a dwelling."

That is a distinction we wish to emphasize, In so many houses, furnishings, beautiful perhaps in themselves, are gathered until it takes a pilot to steer one successfully through a room. Of course, restfuiness and personal comfort-the end in all artistic furnishing-have

Why have things which, instead of helping, contradict each other? Why break up a room into islands? Why not fill it with the delightful sense of spaciousness which old paintings of interiors show?
